March Events

Hina-Matsuri: Girl's Day | Friday, March 3rd, 2017

Happy Girl's Day! We celebrated the occasion by having a craft day at the Kawasaki Reading Room! Attendees did sushi quilling and made clay jars in addition to eating themed cupcakes that were pink, white, and green. We also had a viewing of our own Hina Doll collection. We hope every enjoyed there time!

Lunch and Learn: Bioinformatics Presentation | March 8th 2017

We hosted our second academic lecture of the semester with a lunch and learn! We hosted Natasha Pavlovikj, a PhD student in the Department of Computer Science and Engineering. She presented on her research and interests and how what the new field of bioinformatics had drastically changed the world.

Japan Festival | March 14th, 2017

The annual Japanese Language Department Japan Festival was held in March. We were thankful to be a part of the festivities in sponsoring the event. From origami to shodō to the film screening, attendees loved the event and enjoyed that they were able to attend.

Hanami: Cherry Blossom Festival | March 30th, 2017

What better way to welcome spring than with Hanami? We hosted a cherry blossom painting party where attendees painted their own cherry blossoms on canvases to keep. We also played a series of videos of cherry blossoms around Japan to inspire and educate attendees about the famed sakuras.
