Textbook Presentation
Katherine Agnew-Skow from Person will be giving a presentation for instructors of the basic language program at Tuesday, October 14th at 10:30 in 1126 regarding a new textbook being considered for Spanish 101, 102, 201.

Spanish Tutoring Center
The Spanish Tutoring Center will be closing early Wednesday, October 15th at 4:00 for the Interface Design Fundamentals Class by Sourabh Chakraborty.

Arabic Table Article
The Daily Nebraskan posted an article detailing the typical setup and benefits of the Arabic Conversation Table, including some great quotes from a student perspective. Check it out here: http://www.dailynebraskan.com/arts_and_entertainment/arabic-conversation-tables-connect-language-culture/article_dbdbddd4-4e8e-11e4-a465-001a4bcf6878.html
Interface Design Fundamentals
Wednesday, October 15, 4:00-5:30 p.m.
301 Burnett Hall
Global Classroom

In this design workshop, participants will complete exercises to develop an interface design from the idea stage to completing initial sketches, prototyping the design, user testing it, and bringing it to life. The exercises will use examples of websites, mobile apps, and event posters. No prior knowledge in design, graphic design, or coding is necessary. Feel free to bring projects you’re working on to get feedback!

Blended & Online Teaching & Learning Symposium

Institute of Turkish Studies Funding Opportunities
This Friday, October 17th, UNL will be hosting Dr. Sinan Ciddi <http://turkishstudies.org/about/sinan_ciddi/index.shtml>, Director at the Georgetown Institute of Turkish Studies <http://turkishstudies.org/> . Dr. Ciddi will be on campus to talk with interested faculty about Institute of Turkish Studies funding opportunities available for projects that focus on the fields of Ottoman or Turkish studies. The principal purpose of the grant program is to support and encourage the development of research, scholarship, and learning in the field of Turkish Studies in the U.S. You can read more about the ITS grant program here: http://turkishstudies.org/grants/index.shtml

Please let Dave Wilson know if you or colleagues are interested in joining Dr. Ciddi and himself for a discussion about this funding opportunity. We will meet Friday, October 17th, from 9:15 am – 10:15 am in Canfield 208.

As you know, Turkey is a priority country for UNL. We are working to build more opportunities for faculty and students to visit and engage with this country that has long been at the crossroads of west and east.

Bravo!

Iker González-Allende

The book compiles 188 unpublished letters which, from 1906 until 1970, Pilar de Zubiaurre wrote to and mostly received from numerous Hispanic intellectuals and artists, ranging from José Ortega y Gasset to Zenobia Camprubi and María Martos de Baëza. The volume is divided into three main sections, organized chronologically: letters of her youth, letters during the Spanish Civil War, and letters during exile. In the first section, which includes numerous letters from painters (e.g. Aurelio Arteta, José de Togores, Manuel Fontanals) and writers (e.g. Gabriel Miró, Azorín, Concha Méndez), we witness the active Spanish cultural life during the 20s and 30s. The second section shows the propagandistic efforts of the Republican intellectuals during the Civil War, as well as the difficulties of daily life. The third section, the longest in the volume, comprises letters from fellow exiles such as Gonzalo Rodríguez Láfora and Ángel Ossorio, letters sent from Spain by relatives and friends, and letters from American intellectuals such as Susana Huntington. The letters from female friends such as Camprubi and Martos de Baëza are especially relevant because they illustrate how women in exile kept alive the Republican memory and built communicative bridges between Spain and the exile communities in America. Please see attached form to order!

Bravo!

Executive Committee Meeting
September 30, 2014

Attending:  Radha Balasubramanian
Oscar Pereira
Bob Shirer
Mila Saskova-Pierce
Jordan Stump
Evelyn Jacobson

AGENDA:

1. Suggestions for MLL Colloquium Speakers/Topics – French and Spanish
Oscar Pereira said that he had a number of names he would forward by email to Evelyn Jacobson. Jordan Stump said the French section has been working hard to identify names. The suggestion is to invite in the spring semester Prof. Alexandra Wettlaufer, UT-Austin, specializing in 19th century French and comparative literature and gender studies. Stump suggested the topic would be dependent on the expert’s field of research.

2. Upcoming College and University Faculty Award Nominations
One faculty member is eligible for the Edgerton Award, and DMLL/relevant section will nominate. Other awards available are teaching awards. Since last year the focus was on French, Evelyn hopes to receive nominations from other sections for these awards. Stump mentioned there are many on the DMLL faculty who would be great nominations, but opt out due to the work involved.

3. Oscar Pereira: Report on Minutes from CIC Meeting of Romance Language Departments in 2013 (major trends); Report on TAFTA and Study Abroad Program Trends.
Oscar Pereira discussed TAFTA and his proposed study abroad program in Soria, Spain. The program focuses on professional careers such as physical therapy, translation, etc. He hopes to develop relationships with institutions in Spain that will offer internships to students who participate. He is hopeful there will be other opportunities for students in French and German as well. TAFTA is an agreement similar to NAFTA; a trade agreement/relationship between the US and the EU. More information is available online. Pereira also shared a handout with links to websites.

   Study Abroad Proposals for Summer 2015:
   - Angers, France: Intensive Summer French Program, Jordan Stump & GTA
   - Berlin, Germany: Deutsch in Deutschland, Christina Brantner
   - Perm, Russia: Summer Study Abroad at Perm National Research Polytechnic University, Radha Balasubramanian
   - Bilbao, Spain: Deusto/Summer in Bilbao, Iker González-Allende & GTA
   - Japan: Japanese Religions and Popular Culture, Ikuho Amano, in cooperation with Classics
   - Soria, Spain: Spanish Education Abroad Program in Soria, Oscar Pereira

4. Upcoming Vacant MLL Professorship
The Spencer Professorship currently held by Tom Carr, expires at the end of the academic year. Jacobson discussed the process for selection. It was agreed by the Committee that the Salary Merit Advisory Committee should review and recommend applications. A memo to faculty outlining criteria, eligibility, and a deadline for receipt of applications has been sent. Radha Balasubramanian provided information on how the selection was conducted in the last round. She shared that associate and full professors were both eligible. Shannon Parry will provide data analysis on student evaluations much in the same manner that is prepared for tenure and promotion files.

5. Update on Curriculum Proposals resulting from Nora/Radha Interdisciplinary Grant Award

Jacobson met with Peterson and updated the committee on the grant’s progress. There are three courses being proposed:

- Storytelling – Bob Shirer and Nora Peterson
- Cultures in Transition – Ikuho Amano and Radha Balasubramanian
- International Women Writers – Iker González-Allende and Nora Peterson

After courses are approved, MDLL will pursue crosslisting. Balasubramanian pointed out that crosslisting must be requested before courses are approved through the college. WGS/global studies/English are some departments at issue. After the courses are approved, they will be added to the department schedule. Jacobson discussed the possibility of a new, 12 credit hour minor, that Peterson and the interdisciplinary working group will prepare for submission. Abla Hasan was able to secure a minor in Arabic in only one year, so a proposal could be submitted in spring semester. Various names for the minor are possible - Jacobson considered “cultural studies” or “comparative cultures.” Shirer felt that cultural studies may not be appropriate since it has a fixed meaning in the profession already that may not coincide with what MLL is proposing; utilizing the word “comparative” would be better. Stump agreed.

Regarding the minor itself, there was discussion that one course could be in another department such as Women’s and Gender Studies, English, etc.

Speaking to faculty credit for the courses, Jacobson said the most efficient thing is to grant full credit to one person identified as the lead teacher for the course in any given semester, alternating between instructors. This would replace any “banking” of hours. Regarding the “Windows to the World,” the one credit hour course for first year students, this must be conducted on a volunteer basis. Jacobson indicated that this would be considered more as an important service assignment, that also could be taught by non DMLL faculty.

6. Website update – Shannon Parry

Nothing to unveil at this time, but Parry will schedule a meeting with the executive committee to solicit input once the introductory page is ready to be viewed. After that, the sections will have to identify a point person who can assist with the development and updating of the section based pages. The meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 23 at 11 am in the Language Lab Global Classroom.

7. Announcements

- Lance Perez will be in the department on October 9 at 11 am to follow up on the APR review. Academic Affairs is communicating with departments to identify how to improve the APR process.
- Language Lab Open House is on Friday, October 3 from 1pm to 3 pm.

EPISTOLARIO DE PILAR DE ZUBIAURRE (1906–1970)

Edited by IKER GONZÁLEZ-ALLENDE

Este libro consiste en la edición de 188 cartas inéditas que, desde 1906 hasta 1970, Pilar de Zubiaurre escribió y mayormente recibió de numerosos intelectuales y artistas del ámbito hispánico, desde José Ortega y Gasset hasta Zenobia Camprubi y María Martos de Baeza. El volumen se divide en tres apartados organizados cronológicamente: cartas de juventud, cartas durante la Guerra Civil y cartas durante el exilio. En la primera de estas secciones se aprecia la activa vida cultural española durante los años veinte y treinta, incluyendo numerosas missivas de pintores y escritores. La segunda sección revela los esfuerzos propagandísticos de los intelectuales republicanos durante la guerra, así como las dificultades de la vida cotidiana. Finalmente, la tercera sección, la más amplia del libro, recoge cartas de otros exiliados como Gonzalo Rodríguez Lafora, cartas que Zubiaurre recibe desde España de familiares y amigos, y cartas de intelectuales americanos como Susana Huntington. Sobresalen las cartas de amigas como Campriú y Martos de Baeza porque muestran cómo durante el exilio las mujeres mantuvieron viva la memoria republicana y trazaron puentes de comunicación entre España y las comunidades de exiliados en América.

IKER GONZÁLEZ-ALLENDE es profesor titular de literatura española y de estudios de mujeres y género en la Universidad de Nebraska-Lincoln.

LCTL Section meeting
8/21/2014  2:00 meeting PM

AGENDA:

a.  Introduction and welcome
b.  New minor A
c.  Cultural activities
d.  Attendance policy
e.  Classroom teaching assessment
f.  UCARE
g.  Digital humanities
h.  Potluck date

Present:  Radha Balasubramanian, Abla Hasan; Chisato Steele; Fabricio Garcia, Gloria Liu, Hana Waissrova; Hideko Nishihara Ikuho Amano, Mila Saskova-Pierce, Nadia Lahbass.

The section of Less Commonly Taught Languages met during its assigned time during the Orientation week. Present were all the members of the section. Abla Hasan was present over SKYPE.

The section members welcomed its new Fulbright Scholars, Nadia Lahbass and Fabricio Garcia.

The new Minor A format was briefly introduced.

Plans for Czech, Japanese, and Russian cultural weeks were described. The International Food Bazaar has been introduced, as Czech and Russian programs plan to take a part in it in November. Perhaps Brazilian and Portuguese program might as well.

Departmental Attendance text and teaching observation format was shared. (See the appendix1 and 2)

UCARE program and its opportunities for students was introduced including application deadlines( http://ucare.unl.edu/apply (Apply for UCARE October 28 - January 13: Summer 2015 Application Period; January 21 - March 23: Academic Year 2015-2016 Application Period))

Digital humanities call for collaboration was discussed (See appendix 3) (http://news.unl.edu/newsrooms/unltoday/article/unl-a-partner-in-consortium-to-expand-humanities-research/)

Potluck date for the section was decided for Friday September 5, 2014, at 4:30 at the home of Mila Saskova-Pierce (6701 Everett st.)
Appendix 1

Attendance policy

DMLL Attendance Policy: Regular on-time class attendance is of vital importance in language acquisition. Unexcused absences seriously jeopardize the final grade. You may accrue [five/three] discretionary absences (the equivalent of one full week of class) without penalty which will be granted by your instructor if properly explained in writing – you must inform your instructor of the reason for the absence, beforehand if possible, and if not, as soon as possible after the fact. Use them wisely.

More than [five/three] absences, and/or any absence for which you do not document an explanation, will become unexcused and will incur deductions to the final grade. For each absence in excess of [five/three], 1% will be deducted off the top of the final grade until the tally reaches [fifteen/nine,] the equivalent of three full weeks of class*. If the total number of unexcused absences exceeds this limit, you will incur an automatic failing grade in the course.

Tardies, or late arrivals will be counted on a percentage basis. (ex: 30 minutes late in a 50 minutes class period constitutes 60% of attendance for the class.)

- Absences for personal reasons (including but not limited to family emergencies, funerals or any other reason not related to a UNL class, activity or obligation) are discretionary.
- Absences due to illness are also discretionary unless they are documented with a note from Student Health or a physician verifying the need to miss class.
- Excused absences are University obligations, sports and field trips.
- For an excused absence, you must inform your instructor either in writing or in person as soon as possible and present documentation from the relevant professor, coach, faculty advisor of the club, etc.
- If you have or develop an ongoing medical condition that affects your ability to attend class, it is your responsibility to contact the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities and document your situation so that SSD can develop an authorized protocol for accommodating your attendance needs.
